white privilege	benefit of not having to think about skin colour
discrimination	to treat someone differently due to colour of their skin, age, sex or disability
protected characteristics	the right not to be treated less favourably because of colour of their skin, age, sex or disability

Being fair means, everyone gets what they need to succeed.

In our school, we do not expect everything to be equal, but we do expect it to be fair for everyone.

White privilege refers to the concept that people have basic rights and benefits simply because they are white. They do not have to think about the colour of their skin.

Charity - The age-old mantra of, 'treating others as you wish to be treated' translates into almost every religion and spiritual philosophy known to man.

Christianity – Golden Thread; Reap what you sow.

Hinduism – Karma – if we are good, we will receive goodness in return.

Islam – Third Pillar of Islam – Zakat – giving a portion of one's wealth to charity which leads to self-purification and closeness to Allah.

Many people who are not religious also give money or help to charities and this can be for many different reasons.

Equality refers to the right of every individual to equal treatment and opportunities, regardless of factors like gender, race and social position.

Equality is based on the belief that nobody should have poorer life chances because of things like where they come from, what they believe, their sexual orientation and whether they have a disability.

Everyone on this planet is protected by the Universal Declaration of Human Rights. Wherever we live, whoever we are, these are our rights, and no one should take them away from us.

Human Rights - there are 30 articles simplified for children by Amnesty International. In some parts of the world, people's human rights are not respected.

Charities try to help people all across the world. Some charities do this as they believe it is a key requirement of their religion whereas other help because they believe all people deserve to have their basic human rights met.

Bulwell Food Bank is a charity which provides needy people and families with three days of food.
